

STUDENT REPRESENTATION

Students are given opportunities to represent the students in Program governance and the state professional society, Nebraska Society of Radiologic Technologists (NSRT).

Responsibility: Program Director, Students
Standard: Human Resources

A first year student is asked to represent his/her class on the Educational Advisory Committee. The length of the term is for two years. The student representative has voting privileges on this committee. See the Educational Advisory Committee policy for the committee's responsibilities. The student members of the Educational Advisory Committee will not participate in the student selection or occasions involving Corrective Action or other incidents relating to current or future students.

At the start of the program, each class will select a representative to the NSRT. The length of the term is for two years. The representative will have all rights and responsibilities as governed by the rules regarding student representation on the NSRT board.

During the second year as are representative, the student will have all the privileges, including voting privileges, of a NSRT member except to hold office in the NSRT. Both class representatives are expected to attend board meetings and all business sessions during the Annual Conference of the NSRT, elicit opinions from classmates on voting regarding pertinent issues, and disseminate information from the business sessions back to students in the Program.

If no one volunteers for these representations, a representative will be drawn by chance. If there is more than one volunteer, then the representative is selected either by majority vote of students or by chance.

Students have the opportunity to represent the Program at the NSRT Student Bowl held during the Annual Conference. Three members will be selected to participate in the student bowl for each team sponsored by the Program. Alternates will also be selected.

Other opportunities may arise for students to act as a representative for the Program.
